

JAYSEE EXPENDITURES ARE $100,000 YEARLY

By ROBERT SWANSON

Junior college instructors are worth $60,000.

At least that is the total amount which was paid out in instructors' salaries last year, according to Harold E. Yost, auditor in the business office of the Santa Ana schools.

"Salaries of instructors are the biggest items of expense, constituting over half the entire cost of operating the junior college," Mr. Yost said yesterday. The total operating cost for the institution last year was $103,966. Practically all of this amount is spent with merchants and business people in Santa Ana.

35 Instructors

Although the amount paid out to the faculty may seem large, it was pointed out that there are 35 instructors now employed here. The average monthly salary would be slightly below the $200 mark.

Besides being paid for their services, instructors used erasers, pencils, pens, ink, and writing paper amounting to $2,035.

The next great expense was that of the other employees of the college secretaries, librarians, janitors, and caretakers who drew (Continued on page 3)

Assembly Addressed By Archeologist

Speaking in the Baptist church this morning, Professor Carl Knopf delivered an address on "What's New in Archeology?" before a packed house.

"Professor of history at U. S. C., Knopf has probably lectured more widely than any other member of the institution," Director D. K. Hammond declared. "We tried to secure him last fall, but his many engagements prevented his speaking here at that time."

S. A. Students Get High Rating

Everard L. Stovall, former honor student here, made what is believed to be a record in grades while attending the University of California last semester, it was learned today.

He received "A's" in five different languages, and a "B" in one other language course. His entire 16 unit course was made up of five German, and advanced French.

At Occidental college, John Henderson, another honor student who graduated from jaysee last year, was one of the 18 students in the college who made all "A's" during the first semester.

I. SAILING ALONG

Aboard the S. S. Lurline (Fourth Day Out)—Your traveling reporter is sending in her first report. I sure would like to see all of the kids in the school take this trip and have as much fun as I am having.

More funny things have happened. Today at noon in the dining room a little Chinese boy ordered artichoke for the first time. Later one of the passengers asked him how he liked it. He said: "Mighty fine. I ate every bit of the thing."

Today I was wandering around up in first class and I saw a lady with two darling children. She was trying to do the thing up right with a camera and wasn't having much luck, so I took the picture of her and the children. When I had finished one of the bell boys informed me I had just shot $3,000,-

Watch For New Big Spring Edition

The next issue of El Don, which will be the last one before Spring vacation, is to be a special "Spring Edition" featuring spring wearing apparel and timely articles on the subject of "Spring." Plans for an increase of from six to eight pages are being formulated.

A special staff of eight feature writers have already started work on the new "Spring Edition." Be sure and get your El Don next week!

Gauchos Capture Little Brown Jug Again

From the opening boxing bout till the closing event on the program, Los Gauchos walked away from the campus clubs at the Inter-club stag Monday night, to win the traditional "Little Brown Jug" for the second consecutive year. The Bachelors, Buccaneers, and Junior Lions trailed in successive order.

Bagging firsts in boxing, wrestling, balloon bursting, and chinling, along with numerous seconds and thirds, the Gauchos piled up a safe lead near the close of the evening. In the battle for points between the Bachelors and Buccaneers, the former managed to nose ahead in the closing contests by winning firsts in rope climbing, nail driving, and sack racing. The Junior Lions were handicapped because they failed to have enough members present to qualify in every event, and finished far behind.

Alpha Gamma Sigma To Attend Meet

Twenty-one members and their adviser, Miss Lella B. Watson sent their reservations to Fullerton junior college today, for the Sixth annual state convention of Alpha Gamma Sigma, national junior college honor society.

Jaysee Students Will Help Run City Today

Several junior college students will help to take over the running of the Santa Ana city government today when De Molay members occupy all city offices for the day. In continuance of an annual custom the business of municipal government will rest entirely in the hands of the young men's fraternal order.

Filling the post of city attorney will be Bob Fowler. Hans Bergsetter will act in the capacity of city engineer. Clyde Files will substitute as fire chief while Bob Long will occupy the post of sanitary inspector and Shelley Horton will act as one of the councilmen.

City officials and De Molay members participating in the affair will be honored at a luncheon this noon by the mothers of the order. This evening the regular Friday night dance in the Legion hall and the Palms ballroom will conclude the day's activities.

Beta Gamma Takes In Six Members At Meeting

Last night six new members were initiated into Beta Gamma, honorary junior college extra-curricular society, when the group met at the home of Walt Bandick.

Initiates were Betty Lee, Mary Paxton, Frances Was, Bill Dolan, John Ramirez, and Harris Warren.

Membership in the organization, according to the club constitution, is limited to those students, maintaining a C average, who are outstanding in extra-curricular activities.

The membership is limited to 5 per cent of the student body, and two thirds of the members must be sophomores, one third freshmen.

Miss Watson Enters Play In Contest

Miss Lella B. Watson, jaysee language instructor, announced today that her newest comedy, "Red Bubbles" will be entered in the county one-act play tournament. The play will be presented in the Santa Ana Ebell clubhouse April 14, in competition with other plays written by local authors.

The cast is mainly made up of jaysee students, including Agnes Brady, Jean Kay, Bill Bachman, James Doyle, and Joe Yocum, all students of Ernest Crozier Phillips, jaysee drama instructor. Dorothy Grisct is assisting with directing. Others in the cast will include J. Korley Smith, Holmes Bishop, and Mrs. Aimee Horn.

This is the third time that Miss Watson has entered a play in the contest. Two years ago she was awarded first place for her play "The Boat Sails at Ten," and the year before that she won honorable mention of her play.

Registered Yet?

Next Thursday, March 26, is the final day voters may register for the coming election. Junior college students who will have attained the age of 21 on or before May 5, providing they have lived in California one year, are eligible to cast a vote this year. If you haven't registered yet, do so at once!

DEBATERS LEAVE FOR PI KAPPA DELTA MEET

Two Santa Ana jaysee debate teams left early yesterday for Redlands university where they entered the annual Pi Kappa Delta forensic tournament.

Under the direction of Robert S. Farrar, debate coach, Kenneth Stowell, Morris Christy, Bessie Burles, and Gordon Bishop were scheduled to go into competition at 10 o'clock this morning following yesterday's debates.

There are six rounds of debate before the finals, which will be held tomorrow. Three rounds were run-off yesterday.

80 Teams Entered

A total of 80 teams entered in the tournament will debate the question, "Resolved, that Congress shall have power by a two-thirds majority vote to override a decision of the Supreme Court declaring legislation unconstitutional. Entries are divided into three (Continued on page 3)

Extra! Extra! It's Spring!

According to the old adage, when snow leaves the ground to the awakening of green grass and flowers, many a young man turns lightly to thoughts of love. Today being March 20th, the first day of spring appears amid bright skies and sunshine.

But in Southern California the old adage seems to go amiss. Without the melting of snow or the first appearance of the flowers, our young men have forsaken love's old call to the beckon of sandy beaches on Friday afternoons.

Skating Party Is Scheduled For Wednesday

Treking to Long Beach next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock to go "round and round" at the Hippodrome skating rink, local students will celebrate the annual jaysee skating party.

Prices for this event were announced today by Betty Lee, social commissioner, who is in charge of the event. Associated students will be charged 25 cents and non-Associated Student ticket holders 35 cents.

Skating will begin at 7:30 and end at 11:30. At 10 o'clock the floor will be cleared of all persons except students from the local college and from that time on will be limited to jaysee students.

Refreshments will be served to all students attending the function.

Matinee Dance Is Well Attended

Another successful matinee dance from the standpoint of attendance was held Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 till 5 o'clock. The East Lobby of the Y, where the matinee dances are held, was crowded from the time of the first selection till the last.

Loan Dance Set For March 27

Prizes will be awarded fortunate dancing couples March 27 in Palms ballroom, Third and Ross streets, when the local Phi Theta Kappas sponsor their Student Loan Fund sport dance, Louise Sexton, chairman, asserted here today. Dancing is scheduled to get under way at 8:30 p. m.

Two contests, one a fox trot and the other a waltz, will be held, it was disclosed. The two winning women dancers will each be given a sleeveless sweater, and the men, 10 gallons of gasoline each.

Calvin C. Flint has been selected as director of the contest. It is hoped the affair will prove successful enough to make it an annual affair of the college, Miss Sexton said.

Engineer's Show Is Lauded

Culminating more than a month of hard preparation for the Engineer's show which was given last week, the jaysee demonstrators were agreed today that it was one of the best events ever put over by the college organization here.

Featuring seven experiments on various phases of chemistry and physics presented by 15 members of the club, the performance was highly lauded by science instructors who attended from neighboring schools.

The fifth annual program was witnessed by a capacity attendance of science enthusiasts.

Professional Book Reviewer

By JEAN OVERSHINER

Reviewing books before audiences throughout Southern California is the interesting work of Mrs. Jack Valley of Los Angeles who speaks before the Santa Ana Ebell society each month. She gives between 22 and 26 book reviews every 30 days, going to many cities throughout the Southland.

In addition to giving book reviews, Mrs. Valley travels a great deal. For the last two or three years she has been interested in national and international economical situations, having spent some time in Europe three years ago gathering material on foreign affairs. In the past year she has interviewed many representatives in Washington where she found much bitterness toward the New Deal.

In choosing books to be reviewed, Mrs. Valley interviews the publishers' representatives and selects the most outstanding books of fiction, adventure and biography. As for stage productions, she said: "I am especially interested in the play 'Parnell' by Elsie Schlauffer as I am familiar with the Irish background. I think it is extremely well done."

Mrs. Valley has been speaking before the local Ebell society for the past six years. When she was a small child she lived in Santa Ana.

Next month Mrs. Valley will speak here on the French political situation.

A Worthwhile Project

Approval last week by county school principals of a proposal to establish a public forum here sponsored by the federal government assures Santa Ana the opportunity of taking another educational step forward.

It is understood that the proposal, advanced some weeks ago by a government spokesman, will now be accepted. It calls for the expenditure of $20,500 extending over a period of some months.

Santa Ana is indeed fortunate in securing such a worthwhile project as only ten communities in the nation are to be so honored.

Congratulations, Coach!

A toast to "Al" Reboin for his splendid job of coaching the Don hoopsters this season! Turned back only twice, jaysee's scrappy outfit was feared by every team in the conference.

Reboin's work with the team has further proved its worth in that two Dons were placed on the all-conference team. Fred Erdhaus and Len Lockhart received this honor, and we are indeed proud of their efforts.

Aside from basketball, Coach Reboin has also developed his hobby sport—rugby. In this he formed a snappy, scrappy team, that despite the newness of the game in these parts, well represented the college.

Coach Reboin, in his first year here, has rightfully earned the recent promotion accorded him by the local Board of Education.

A Success In Pennies

The Penny drive last week went over with a real bang. Who would have believed that $100 could be raised in two days in pennies and nickels? Not I, but they did it. Perhaps now students will hold Phi Theta Kappa in a little higher light. It looks like they really have something in them besides a lot of "book larnin'."

Of course the honor group must have in such a whole-hearted way and put in a good share of the money themselves. Although all of the faculty did not do as well as they might have, the majority did their part and then some. Most of the students contributed something too; some more, others less.

It was good to see the student body, on a whole, take such an active interest in the drive. However there are still a great many things going on at jaysee that half of the students aren't taking advantage of at all. They could benefit a great deal by attending some of the many social functions and entertainment planned by the social committee.

Plenty To Offer

If they don't care for dances and parties, they could go out for athletics. A swimming pool, track, football field, hockey field, tennis courts, badminton courts, ping pong tables, basketball courts, gymnasium equipment and even a golf course are provided for the student. In most cases he is even furnished with all the equipment he needs. The only thing left for him to do, is to turn out and take advantage of the opportunities offered him. Well, perhaps he is interested in studying when he goes to school. Perhaps he thinks that is what schools are for (sometimes I wonder).

For this type, the college offers many organizations and discussion groups where he can pursue his interests further. Alpha Mu Gamma, Alpha Rho Tau, Phi Rho Pi, Phi Sigma Alpha, A. A. E., German club, Press club, French club, Spanish club, and many other such "subject groups" are at the disposal of the "scholar." Still I will wager that 50 per cent of the students don't even know what these Greek numeral organizations stand for, and probably have never heard of them.

If none of these organizations appeal to the Santa Ana jaysee

Can You Feature It?

During some of their aquatic maneuvers at the beach recently, Gus Gilbert and Harris Warren salvaged a mysterious looking brass container from the watery depths. Thinking that it might contain something valuable, they toted it up on the beach. They removed the lid after some difficulty and discovered that the contents were nothing but ashes.

Not convinced, they poured out the ashes and started pawing through them. All they found were a few charred bones. They examined the container again, and found on the bottom, in small print, a date and name. It seems they had been molesting the ashes of some dead lady.

Art students were seen plastered recently. They were caught in the act—making faces of themselves.

This is how they did it. The victim first laid out on the table (instead of under the table.) Next, vaseline is smeared all over his face and he is obliged to put on a bathing cap. Two wide straws, preferably the kind you guzzle malted milks through, are put into his snuzzle. Now (here's the fun) gobs of plaster of paris is dumped on his pan.

He is left in this condition for about ten minutes. The straws are making a wheezing noise similar to a steam caliope or the oxygen bag in a hospital. After the mold is made, it is comparatively easy to cast the face. And the result—well—they would make an undertaker lift his eyebrow. See how you look sometime in a pasty white death mask—that is if you don't want to be two-faced.

Swallows Fail To Observe Leap Year And Arrive On Same Date As Usual

Following a custom of 68 years, the swallows returned to the Mission San Juan Capistrano yesterday. This will be the sixty-ninth year that they have returned on March 19, St. Joseph's Day.

Mission San Juan Capistrano has been established for 160 years. Records show that the swallows have come on the same day of the year for the last 68 years. Just how long they have returned on St. Joseph's Day before records of their arrival were kept, no one knows.

Judging from past records, the swallows did not observe Leap year and come on March 18 as might be expected. Records of the past 16 leap years show that the swallows always return on March 19.

An advance guard of the birds may always be seen hovering above the mission on March 18. This scouting party wings back into the south and returns the next day with the main flock.

Test Your I. Q. On This Timely Question

AUSTIN, Texas (ACP)—Did the 20th century begin Jan. 1, 1900, or Jan. 1, 1901?

A University of Texas professor baffled a class in Greek history with this question the other day. Half the class voted Jan. 1, 1900, while the other half wouldn't comment. The learned pedagogue finally told the boys and girls.

"There's no such thing as a zero year," he said. "Did you ever stop to think of the year 1 A. D.? Now think about 100 A. D., and you'll see only 99 years passed between Jan. 1, 1 A. D. and Jan. 1, 100 A. D. Therefore, Jan. 1, 101 is the date that marked the exact passing of the first century after Christ, and the 20th century began Jan. 1, 1901.

JOHN HENRY SAYS--

Jimmy Smith, Coach,
Fullerton Jaycee

For a decade you have been producing water polo teams for Fullerton junior college, Mr. Smith, and you have not so much as developed an average team yet. Every one of your teams has been far above the average and practically all of them have been of championship calibre.

Your aggregates have not been beaten for so long that they have forgotten the tarty taste of defeat. Surely this phenomenal record can be credited to no one other than yourself.

There is a movement in your city whereby funds are being raised to enter one of your teams in the Olympic tryouts this spring. El Don wishes you the best of success in your undertaking.

Nolan Hasson, local Swimming Captain.

You were honored by the jaysee natators when they elected you their captain, Nolan. They realized that there was a big job ahead of them and they wanted a leader whom they could trust with the responsibility.

You not only have to keep up your reputation as a star swimmer, but also have to help the other members of the team in their endeavors. The entire decision of whether or not this ensuing tank season will be a success lies upon your shoulders. We know you will take every opportunity to put Davie Don and his water pounding cohorts out in front of the pack this season.

They sort of have you behind the eight ball, fish, but you just keep 'em up and the walls of College hall are likely to be adorned with championship plaques in the very near future.

Jaysee Expenses Run High

Other Equipment
Laboratory supplies along with art, music, and physical education equipment cost $8,000.

Another large expense is that of the Y. M. C. A. which the school rents for $3,405 yearly. Books, magazines and other reading matter cost $2,700. Janitor's supplies, including the necessary brooms, sweepers and other supplies amounted to $669, a comparatively low figure.

He pointed out, however, that his debaters have been working steadily during the last few weeks with the Redlands tournament as their objective.

Debate Pacific
Early this week the College of the Pacific forensic team, which is also entered in the tournament, visited Santa Ana and debated with the local squad. The meeting was non-decision, however, and aimed at pointing the debaters for today's tournament at Redlands.

Fullerton Invades Don Oval

New 'West Wind'?

Eddie (Call Me "Dad") West, well known sports editor of the Santa Ana Register, was all smiles this week following announcement that Edmund Jr. had been born at St. Joseph's hospital.

To give the young man a good newspaper start, Roch Bradshaw, feature writer for the Santa Ana Journal, devoted a column to the new baby the other evening.

Later "Dad" West will likely burst forth in a lengthy sketch in his column. But he has a good excuse now as the old "West Winds" really have something to blow about. El Don sport staff members congratulate you on the arrival, Eddie!

Don Diamonders Practice With All Star Team

Looking elsewhere for a place to play baseball when Santa Ana jaysee decided not to field a team, five junior college baseball enthusiasts worked out in a ball game with the Santa Ana Stars, local semi-pro outfit, early this week.

Pitchers Willie Jones and Arm and Hanson; Catcher Cliff Lee, Infielder Tay Raggs, and Outfielder Neil "Torchy" McDaniels limbered up in the practice game at the Santa Anita diamond.

The Santa Anita team is composed of the Dons mentioned and a bevy of former Santa Ana high school star baseball players.

Netters Initiate Play Here This Week

Varsity tennis practice, under the supervision of Al Reboin, faculty advisor, will start today.

At a meeting this week arrangements for practice days, for securing balls, and an announcement of coming matches was made by Reboin and Kenneth Nisseley, student coach.

The ladder of players was posted today on the bulletin board. The five top ranking players are: Muryll Hallman, Carl Aubrey, Kenneth Nissley, Gorton Davis, and George Young. Of these five players two are lettermen and the others are former Santa Ana high school players.

Los Angeles Jaysee Wins Hoop Title

Los Angeles jaysee won the Southern California junior college basketball championship last week when they defeated Riverside jaysee 23 to 21 in the third of a three game playoff at Whittier college gymnasium.

L. A. J. C. won the first game of the playoff by a comfortable margin. Riverside won the second in a thrilling contest which was climaxed by the winning basket being made when the gun sounded.

Padre Tracksters Clash With Hornet Squad Here Today

Langmen Hold Conference Win Over Pomona

By Duncan Clark

"We can take it," say the Dons. Championship hopes crushed barring upsets, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Don trackmen will attempt a comeback today when they meet Harold Lang's powerful Fullerton Hornet aggregation on the Poly field oval at 3:30.

Fullerton made their Eastern conference debut the first of the week by swamping Pomona's Red Devil tracksters 104 to 27, yet the Cookmen are favored to win today by a close margin. The El Don dopesheet gives Santa Ana 68, and Fullerton 63, with Fullerton winning the all-important relay.

Koepsel Out?

With Vernon Koepsel, sprint ace, still ailing from a mild "flu" relapse, his starting in either sprint is very doubtful, unless doctors pronounce him fit to run. Hopes were brightened today with the return to form of Frank Ochoa and Bob Spray, the mile twins. They are expected to add much needed points to the Don total.

Ed King, star 880 and relay man from Newport, has dropped track at Fullerton it is reported, dealing a tough blow to the Hornet chances.

Don Titular Track Hopes Jeopardized By Riverside Loss

Services Of Koepsel Are Missed By Locals

Visions of gold track shoes went glimmering early this week as Riverside's champion Bengals paraded in front of the Don track forces to the tune of 68-58 in their entanglement at the local field.

Despite the fact that were sans the services of blond Vernon Koepsel, the local charges gave the Tiger a run for his money for the second straight year.

off 11 events, the local stock dropped as the Riverside weight and broad jump men unexpectedly took points previously awarded by the dope sheets to the Don cause.

Clean sweeps in the two hurdle races augmented the Santa Ana score to some extent, but the weakness in the field events showed up tremendously.

The Dons real superiority so far this year has shown up only in the hurdles and in the pole vault where Jim Noe has been ruining the record book.

Twelve Swimming Squad Aspirants In Improvement

Twelve natators are pressing forward at the local plunge in strenuous daily drills in preparation for the first league meet with Fullerton here April 18. With lettermen Jack Runnells, Bill Dunstan, Johnny Henry, and Captain Nolan Hasson around which to build a team, Coach Alvin Reboin indicated that he expects the Dons to be the standout splashers in the conference.

"Remarkable times have already been clocked by the men," Reboin said. "Hasson, Davis, and Henry have all been timed in the 50 in record time. Some good times have also been rung up in the 100 and our diving is gradually improving."

Dwyer, Hasson, Dunstan, Davis, Overton, Henry, Runnells, Witt, Sherrill, Walter, Kilburn, and Prescott make up the list of tanksters competing for positions.

It's the Top

Have you seen the nautical formals? They've hit THE TOP and there is nothing quite as clever as the new number featuring a navy blue linen skirt, white linen shirt-makers top with small blue covered buttons down the blouse front. All the new formals this spring are featured in cottons... and they're darling too. Go down town and see some of them—or better still read next week's fashion edition of El Don.

Ryan Writes Of Honolulu

him to be. He has reddish brown hair, and the most pleasing voice I have heard. He started his career on the sea at the age of 14 years, and has followed that career as his forefathers have all of the time since. He has been captain of the S. S. Lurline since 1933 when it made its maiden voyage. He has been a captain since 1921, and has, during that period from 1921 to 1936, been first in command of more than a half dozen steamers. Among them are the Wilhelmina, Manoa, Manukai, Maloha.

Offers Help

Capt. Charles A. Berndtson isn't very tall in stature, but he has poise and dignity which adds greatly to his height. I was scared half to death when they came after me in my cabin to interview him, but he immediately put me at ease with a very congenial and friendly hand shake. After he had told me about his son, daughter, and home in Oakland, Calif., and how his son was carrying out the family tradition and had his appointment to Annapolis, and about his 15-year-old daughter, he turned the conversation, and started asking me questions. I told him that I knew no one in the Islands, and he informed me he had many influential friends and he was sure they could do something toward helping me find a position. He wishes me lots of luck at any rate, and that is something.

I'll see you again after I find myself in Honolulu, I hope, in a nice long column.

Journalists Choose Favorite Funnies

Unusually divergent opinion of the college journalists were unanimous this week concerning four things: Lil' Abner, Napoleon, Joe Palooka, and Tarzan of the Apes. That was the result of a survey held this week to determine the best liked comic strip.

The four winners together polled a comfortable 15 out of a possible 19 score. Lil' Abner headed the list by an easy margin, closely followed by Joe Palooka and Napoleon.

Right on the heels of the "big four" came the collegiate Harold Teen, the scrapping Bungle family, and The Gumps.

Dann Dunn, Ella Cinders, Winnie Winkle, and Dixie Dugan listed about third-rate.

Peter Rabbit polled a single vote. Buck Rogers was a little more fortunate with three. Apple Mary, Regular Fellers, and Gasoline Alley met similar fate.

The popularity of Lil' Abner, Joe Palooka, and Tarzan indicates a longing on the part of the readers to be brave and strong like their funny page heroes, it was said.

This theory would explain Peter Rabbit's unpopularity, because no one desires to imitate a rabbit.

Zoology Lab Finds New Freak

Professors at the University of California and Southern California were baffled by a recent discovery of Paul Christ, local junior college student, who found a dog of the mongrel type with split teeth in both upper and lower jaws, it was made known today. The findings were revealed by Christ in a zoology class taught by J. Russell Bruff, head of the college science department.

Desiring to know the cause of the strange phenomenon, word was sent to the laboratories of the two universities asking for an explanation, but professors there were at a loss to adequately explain the teeth formations.

Have You Heard?

Have you heard about the new prep and college department that will be situated in Vandermast's basement? It's going to be the berries. This section will accommodate young men from 14 to 22 years of age.

The local clothing establishment has gone to a lot of added expense to make this department the tops. They paid 40 men $1,000,000,000 to renovate the basement. The stairway has been enlarged to the width of a city street to make room for the crowds of young men who will flock to this new addition. Fifty extra have been put on the sales force to take care of the enormous crowds.

The dedication of the new basement will be made in the near future. A quart bottle of milk will be smashed on some Jaysee student's head to christen the new feature. What a splash this is going to make. The mayor of Paulorino will be the master of ceremonies. He promises an exciting program. Elmer Q. Zilch is to be the principle speaker. He will speak on the Boer war. (What a bore.) Elmer Q. said that he will not tolerate bronx cheers. The speech will be discontinued as soon as he hears one. (A pink elephant prize will be given to the person that makes the bronx cheer that stops him.)

The management announces that a new suit will be given away with an additional $25.00 order.) can get an extra pair of pants with an additional $25,000 order. Come early and avoid the rush. Get those free suits while they last.

Remember to look for the opening date in your local papers. This story may be slightly exaggerated but the prep and college department is not exaggerated in the least. This will be the student's style center of Santa Ana.—Advertisement.
